The FUND may invest in financial derivatives with the dual objective of risk mitigation and return maximization.

The FUND may invest in assets denominated in Euros and, subsidiarily, in assets denominated in U.S. dollars

The FUND will not hedge the currency exposure of the assets held. The fund will not use financial leverage, nor will it hedge currency risk.

Type of Non Professional Investor to whom it is intended

The fund is intended for retail clients, professional clients, and/or eligible counterparties who possess sufficient knowledge of financial markets to understand the risks associated with alternative investment funds and who seek to increase or start their exposure to such funds in a controlled manner.

The fund is also suitable for investors who recognize that the value of the Participation Units may fluctuate, have the financial capacity to absorb potential capital losses, prioritize capital appreciation with a medium to long-term perspective, exhibit moderate risk tolerance, and have a recommended investment horizon of 5 years and 1 day.

The fund does not guarantee capital or income.
